Lesson 1:
Prerequisite
Skills: Reading and Writing

Let's Learn

I can break apart sentences I hear into words.

I can count sounds I hear and say if they are the same or different.

I can introduce myself and use common greetings.

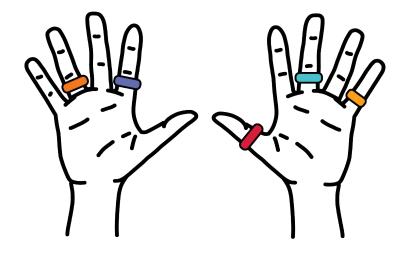

I can use words that name actions, directions, and positions.

I can hold a crayon in a tripod (or pincer) grip and make marks on a paper.

Let's Focus on Skills

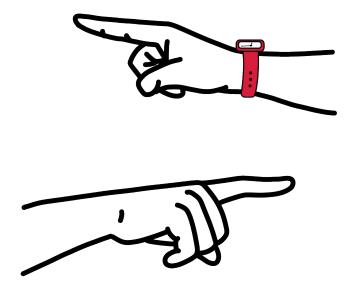

Counting to Ten

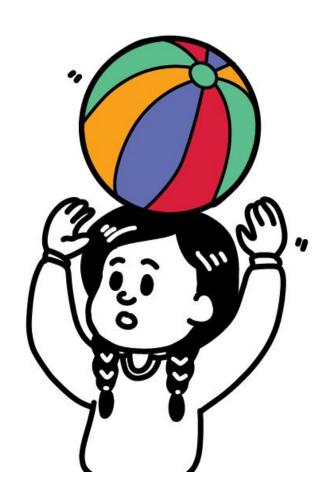

Let's Listen

Check for Understanding

Left or Right?

Let's Write

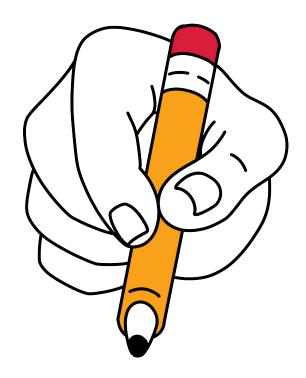

Take-Home

Material

Practicing Our Grip

Let's Keep Learning

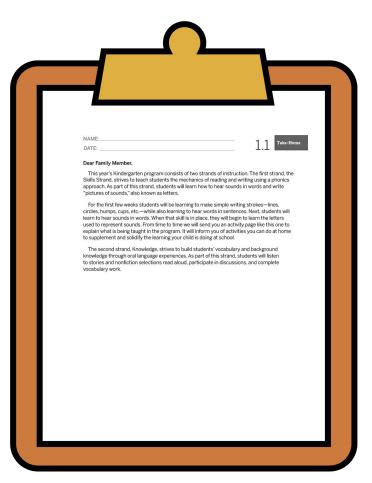

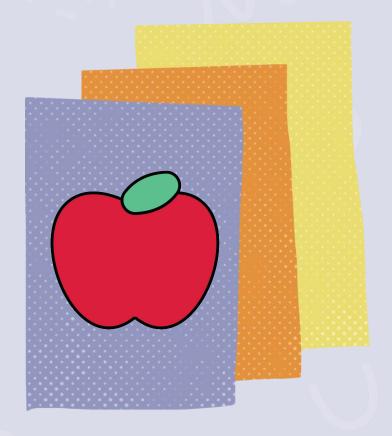

Activity Page 1.1

Lesson 1:
Review:
Back-to-School

Let's Learn

I can take apart and put together words with up to three sounds.

I can write the upper- and lowercase letters: 'A', 'a', 'C', 'c', 'G', 'g', 'N', 'n', 'P', 'p'.

I can read words with three letters that have the vowel /a/.

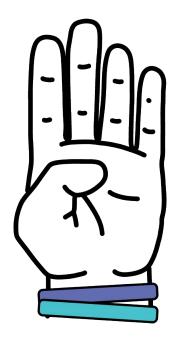

Let's Focus on Skills

Oral Blending

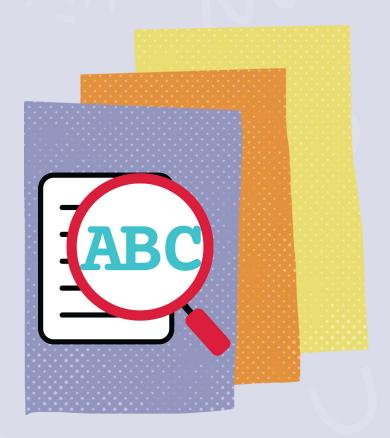

Oral Segmenting

Oral Blending

Let's Look at Language

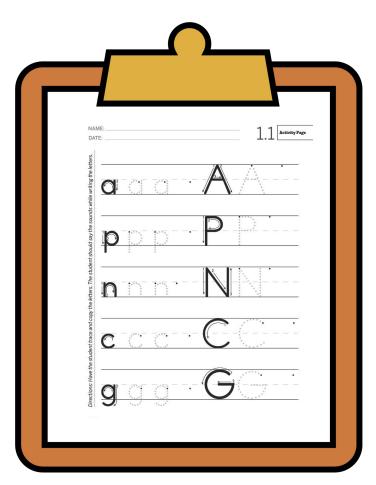

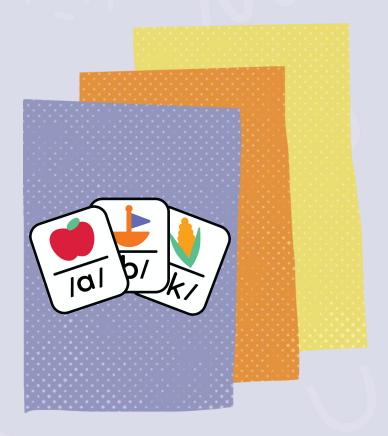

Skills

Activity Page 1.1

Let's Focus on Skills

Pocket Chart Chaining

Check for Understanding

Let's Keep Learning

Activity Page 1.2

Lesson 1:
Back-to-School:
Basic Code
Review

Let's Learn

I can rhyme words.

I can review the sounds and spellings: /a/ > 'a', /i/ > 'i', /p/ > 'p', /b/ > 'b', /t/ > 't', and /d/ > 'd'.

I can read and spell one-syllable words with /a/ > 'a' and /i/ > 'i'.

I can hear the change in a spoken word when a specified phoneme is changed.

I can spell words read aloud with a > a.

I can make questions about a text before, during, and after I read to deepen my understanding and gain information.

As my teacher reads "Kate Visits Doba" aloud, I can read along with purpose and understanding.

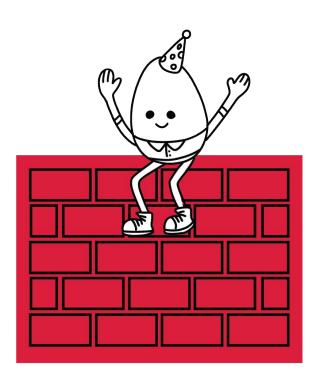

I can practice reading aloud.

I can answer written multiple-choice questions about key details in the text.

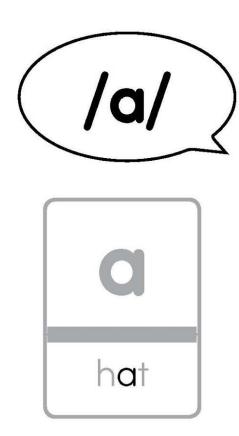

Let's Focus on Skills

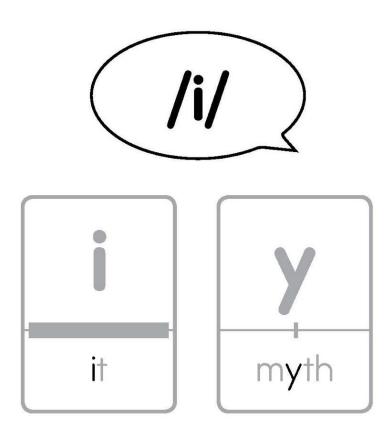

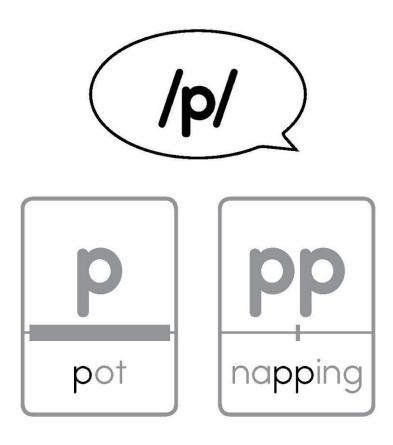

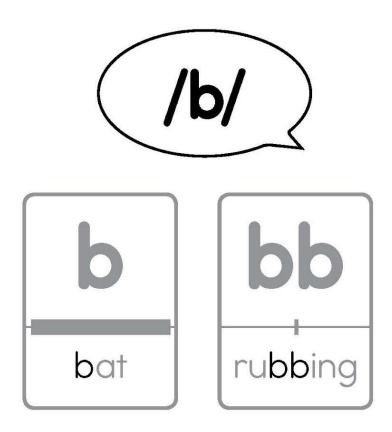

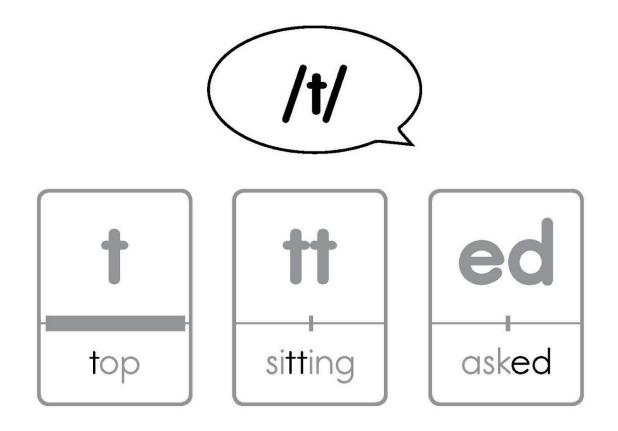

Rhyming

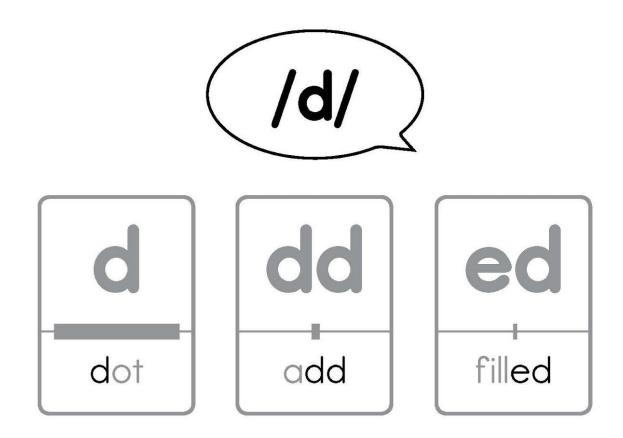

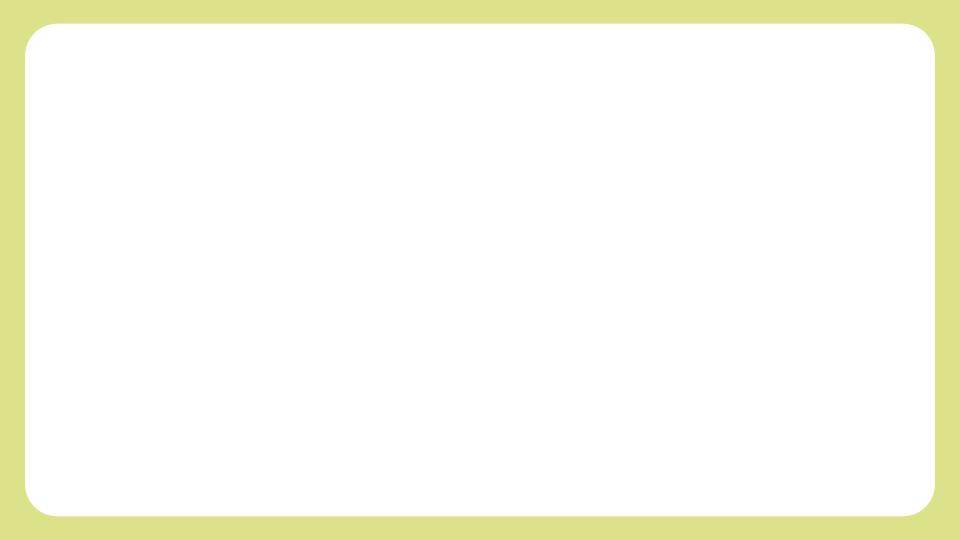

Dictation Journal

Let's Read

"Kate Visits Doba"

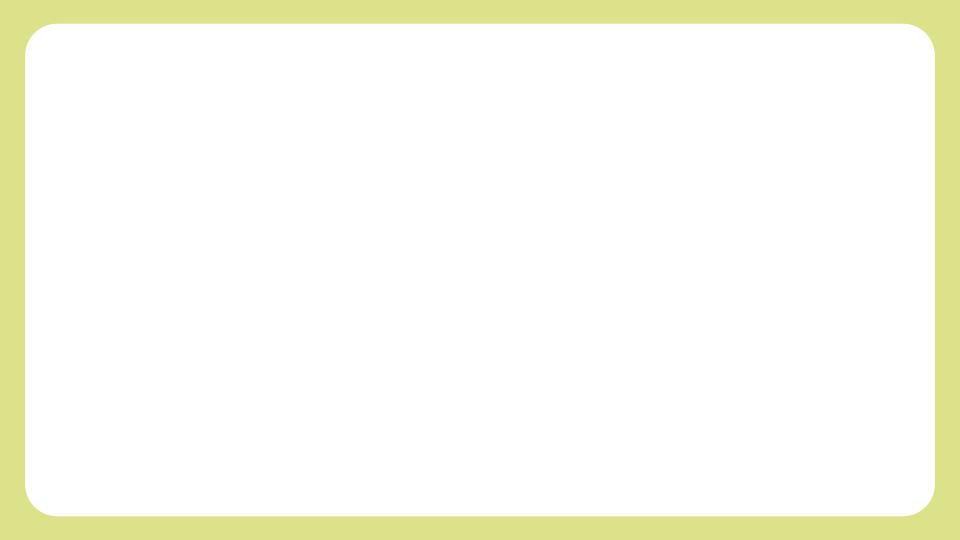

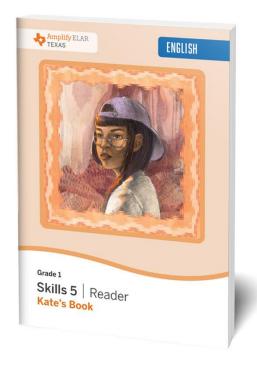

Skills

Introducing the Story

"Kate Visits Doba"

Kate Visits Do-ba I'm Kate Nez and last summ-er, when I was nine, my mom and dad took me to vis-it my Do-ba. Do-ba is my mom's mom. She is an art-ist and she has a cab-in out in the Southwest. At the start of my vis-it with Do-ba, I was sad. It seemed like it would be a dull summ-er. But in the end, I had a lot of fun. I was sitting in the kitch-en, patting the cat that was sitting on my lap, when Do-ba came in. "I just spoke with Sa-nj," she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sa-nj is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?" "To-morr-ow morn-ing!" Do-ba said.
Kate Visits Do-ba I'm Kate Nez and last summ-er, when I was nine, my mom and dad took me to vis-it my Do-ba. Do-ba is my mom's mom. She is an art-ist and she has a cab-in out in the Southwest. At the start of my vis-it with Do-ba, I was sad. It seemed like it would be a dull summ-er. But in the end, I had a lot of fun. I was sitting in the kitch-en, patt-ing the cat that was sitting on my lap, when Do-ba came in. "I just spoke with Sa-ni," she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sa-ni is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"
Kate Visits Do-ba I'm Kate Nez and last summ-er, when I was nine, my mom and dad took me to vis-it my Do-ba. Do-ba is my mom's mom. She is an art-ist and she has a cab-in out in the Southwest. At the start of my vis-it with Do-ba, I was sad. It seemed like it would be a dull summ-er. But in the end, I had a lot of fun. I was sitting in the kitch-en, patt-ing the cat that was sitting on my lap, when Do-ba came in. "I just spoke with Sa-ni," she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sa-ni is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"
Kate Visits Do-ba I'm Kate Nez and last summ-er, when I was nine, my mom and dad took me to vis-it my Do-ba. Do-ba is my mom's mom. She is an art-ist and she has a cab-in out in the Southwest. At the start of my vis-it with Do-ba, I was sad. It seemed like it would be a dull summ-er. But in the end, I had a lot of fun. I was sitting in the kitch-en, patting the cat that was sitting on my lap, when Do-ba came in. "I just spoke with Sa-ni," she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sa-ni is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"		11
I'm Kate Nez and last summ-er, when I was nine, my mom and dad took me to vis-it my Do-ba. Do-ba is my mom's mom. She is an art-ist and she has a cab-in out in the Southwest. At the start of my vis-it with Do-ba, I was sad. It seemed like it would be a dull summ-er. But in the end, I had a lot of fun. I was sitting in the kitch-en, patting the cat that was sitting on my lap, when Do-ba came in. "I just spoke with Sa-ni," she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sa-ni is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"		e Visits Doba would be a dull summer. But in the end, I had a lot of fun. I was sitting in the kitch-en, patting the cat that was sitting on my lap, when Do bo came in. "I just spoke with Sonj." she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and God." "Who is God?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sonj is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	I'm Kate Nez and last summ took me to vis-it my Do-ba.	t-er, when I was nine, my mom and dad Do-ba is my mom's mom. She is an art-i my lap, when Do-ba came in. "I just spoke with Sa-ni," she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sa-ni is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"
"What sort of offer?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sani is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinner outside, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"
"He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sani is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinner out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	"I just spoke with Sani,"	she said. "He made us an off-er."
"Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sani is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	"What sort of off-er?"
"Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sani is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	"He asked if we would li	ke to camp with him and Gad."
"Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	"Who is Gad?"
"Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	"Gad is a kid. He's nine,	like you. Sa·ni is his grand-dad."
outside, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	"What would we do?" I	asked.
"To morr ow morn-ing!" Do ba said.	"Gee," I said, "that sound	ds like fun! When can we start?"
	"To-morr-ow morn-ing!"	Do∙ba said.

Vocabulary

cabin

offer

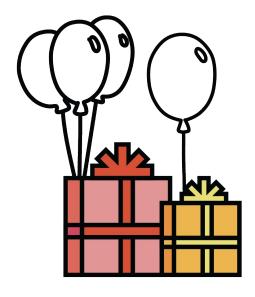

Why are we reading this story?

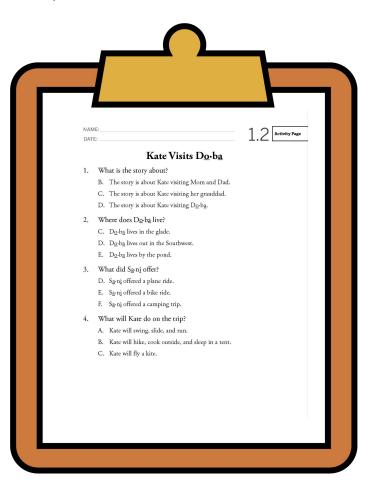

Kate Visits Do-ba I'm Kate Nez and last summ-er, when I was nine, my mom and dad took me to vis-it my Do-ba. Do-ba is my mom's mom. She is an art-ist and she has a cab-in out in the Southwest. At the start of my vis-it with Do-ba, I was sad. It seemed like it would be a dull summ-er. But in the end, I had a lot of fun. I was sitting in the kitch-en, patting the cat that was sitting on my lap, when Do-ba came in. "I just spoke with Sa-nj," she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sa-nj is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?" "To-morr-ow morn-ing!" Do-ba said.
Kate Visits Do-ba I'm Kate Nez and last summ-er, when I was nine, my mom and dad took me to vis-it my Do-ba. Do-ba is my mom's mom. She is an art-ist and she has a cab-in out in the Southwest. At the start of my vis-it with Do-ba, I was sad. It seemed like it would be a dull summ-er. But in the end, I had a lot of fun. I was sitting in the kitch-en, patt-ing the cat that was sitting on my lap, when Do-ba came in. "I just spoke with Sa-ni," she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sa-ni is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"
Kate Visits Do-ba I'm Kate Nez and last summ-er, when I was nine, my mom and dad took me to vis-it my Do-ba. Do-ba is my mom's mom. She is an art-ist and she has a cab-in out in the Southwest. At the start of my vis-it with Do-ba, I was sad. It seemed like it would be a dull summ-er. But in the end, I had a lot of fun. I was sitting in the kitch-en, patt-ing the cat that was sitting on my lap, when Do-ba came in. "I just spoke with Sa-ni," she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sa-ni is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"
Kate Visits Do-ba I'm Kate Nez and last summ-er, when I was nine, my mom and dad took me to vis-it my Do-ba. Do-ba is my mom's mom. She is an art-ist and she has a cab-in out in the Southwest. At the start of my vis-it with Do-ba, I was sad. It seemed like it would be a dull summ-er. But in the end, I had a lot of fun. I was sitting in the kitch-en, patting the cat that was sitting on my lap, when Do-ba came in. "I just spoke with Sa-ni," she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sa-ni is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"		11
I'm Kate Nez and last summ-er, when I was nine, my mom and dad took me to vis-it my Do-ba. Do-ba is my mom's mom. She is an art-ist and she has a cab-in out in the Southwest. At the start of my vis-it with Do-ba, I was sad. It seemed like it would be a dull summ-er. But in the end, I had a lot of fun. I was sitting in the kitch-en, patting the cat that was sitting on my lap, when Do-ba came in. "I just spoke with Sa-ni," she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sa-ni is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"		e Visits Doba would be a dull summer. But in the end, I had a lot of fun. I was sitting in the kitch-en, patting the cat that was sitting on my lap, when Do bo came in. "I just spoke with Sonj." she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and God." "Who is God?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sonj is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	I'm Kate Nez and last summ took me to vis-it my Do-ba.	t-er, when I was nine, my mom and dad Do-ba is my mom's mom. She is an art-i my lap, when Do-ba came in. "I just spoke with Sa-ni," she said. "He made us an off-er." "What sort of off-er?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sa-ni is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"
"What sort of offer?" "He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sani is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinner outside, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"
"He asked if we would like to camp with him and Gad." "Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sani is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinner out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	"I just spoke with Sani,"	she said. "He made us an off-er."
"Who is Gad?" "Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sani is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	"What sort of off-er?"
"Gad is a kid. He's nine, like you. Sani is his grand-dad." "What would we do?" I asked. "Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	"He asked if we would li	ke to camp with him and Gad."
"Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	"Who is Gad?"
"Well, we would hike, look at rocks, cook lunch and dinn-er out-side, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	"Gad is a kid. He's nine,	like you. Sa·ni is his grand-dad."
outside, look at the stars, and sleep in a tent." "Gee," I said, "that sounds like fun! When can we start?"	"What would we do?" I	asked.
"To morr ow morn-ing!" Do ba said.	"Gee," I said, "that sound	ds like fun! When can we start?"
	"To-morr-ow morn-ing!"	Do∙ba said.

Check for Understanding

Wrap-Up

Let's Keep Learning

