NYC Monthly Round Up
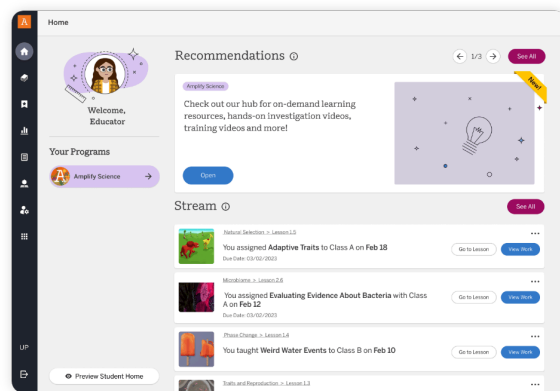

Summer 2025

📣 Announcements

The 2025-26 school year is almost here!
Keep reading below for some announcements for this summer.

Improved navigation for a seamless experience

We're rolling out a more intuitive navigation experience, making it easier to find what you need:

- A new sidebar menu allows for quick access to key educator resources like Content, the PD Library, and Apps.
- The Apps menu is now organized by subject, for streamlined access to teaching tools.

Shared Demo Accounts for Summer Planning

Below are the temporary NYC login credentials provided to teachers for planning purposes.
These accounts will go live on July 7th, and will remain active through October.
If others at your school are new, please share them with them while they wait for their full Clever accounts.

🚨 Timely Resources

Ready to plan for the 2025-26 school year?
These pacing guides are designed to provide structure, not rigid mandates and resources for NYC.

The guides were created for teachers to support them in planning and implementing Amplify curriculum with integrity. It is not meant to be used in place of lesson plans, nor is it meant to be followed as a rigid day-by-day calendar. This guide is intended to provide general guidance about the pace of each lesson and unit. The actual pacing of each unit will vary for each teacher. Use the Yearlong Pacing Template tab for school year planning and to track and reflect your actual implementation.
